SCOTTISH WIDOWS' FUND LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.

As Regards
Security, Profit, and Liberal Conditions,
the Society's Policies are Documents of the Highest Value, and have met with such acceptance, that the general operations of the Society have long exceeded in magnitude those of every other Office in the country. The following statements indicate:—

I.—The Secure and Profitable character of the Business.

The Profit, or excess of Assets over Liabilities, for the Seven Years ending 31st December 1880, according to Valuation on the secure basis of the Actuaries' $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Experience Tables, amounted to no less than £1,347,755, which yielded the following Exceptionally large Reversionary Bonuses.

On Original Sums Assured, from £1:4s. to £3:0s. 5 per cent. per annum, or taken On the Premiums paid during the Seven Years, from £58½ to £133 per cent. per annum.
(Age at Entry, 35.)

II.—The Liberality of the Conditions.

SURRENDER VALUES, or, in lieu thereof, 'PAID-UP POLICIES,' free of future Premiums, allowed at any time; LOANS granted within a small margin of the Surrender Value; EXTENSIVE FOREIGN TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE free of charge from the first; MOST POLICIES absolutely INDEFEASIBLE and WHOLE-WORLD after first five years.

III.—The Magnitude of the Transactions.

Policies in Force . . .	£25,000,000	Accumulated Funds . . .	£7,700,000
Claims Paid . . .	£12,500,000	Annual Revenue . . .	£980,000
New Business in 1881, £1,200,000.

If taken as a percentage on the original sums in the Policies, this Bonus is equivalent to an addition of from £2, 11s. 4d. per cent. per annum on the oldest Policies, to £1, 7s. 6d. per cent. on those for the first time entitled to participate.

IN THIS SOCIETY alone are combined the advantages of Mutual Assurance with Moderate Premiums.

A Policy for £1200 to £1250 may, at most ages, be had for the premium generally charged, with profits, for £1000; while under the equitable system of division large additions may be expected to the Policies of those who participate.

The WHOLE PROFITS go to the Policyholders, on a system at once safe and equitable,—no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss.

THE FIFTH SEPTENNIAL INVESTIGATION showed a SURPLUS of £624,473, which, after reserving one-third (£208,158) for future division, was divided among 6662 Policies entitled to participate. Policies of £1000 sharing a first time were increased to sums varying from £1180 to £1300 or more. Other Policies were raised to £1400, £1500, and upwards. A few of the early Policies have been doubled.

THE COUNTY DI

BY JOHN B

P R E F A C E.

—o—

IN the present edition of the COUNTY DIRECTORY OF SCOTLAND, the arrangement which has been found so useful in the preceding editions has been continued, the aim of the Publishers being to render the work, as far as possible, a complete Postal and Telegraph Directory for the Country.

All the entries have been carefully revised, and a very considerable number of new places added, bringing the information down to date, and every care has been taken to insure correctness, through the returns made by nearly five hundred Postmasters.

As in former editions, under the towns and villages, are given the names of the Clergy, Medical Practitioners, Bankers, Registrars, Hotel-keepers, etc. etc.; and to the Telegraph Offices are added the hours during which business is transacted.

The Publishers once more desire to express their grateful acknowledgments to the Noblemen and Gentlemen who have favoured them with information; to the Post Office Authorities, for whose valuable recognition and support they are so much indebted; and, not least, to the Postmasters of Scotland, without whose cordial co-operation and assistance the production of such a work would scarcely have been practicable.

107 PRINCES STREET, EDINBURGH,

August 1882.

EXPLANATIONS.

THE present edition of this work has, like the preceding, been compiled for the combined purposes of a Postal and Telegraph Directory; and attention is specially called to the following particulars:—

I. THE POSTAL DIRECTORY.

Throughout the First Part of the Directory the postal address appears, as formerly, between the colons, after the name of the residence, and this is followed by the name of the owner or occupant. In the Second Part this order is reversed, the name of the owner or occupant appearing first, followed by the residence and postal address.

(The places in the postal address now printed in italics are in every instance Telegraph Offices, but their being thus indicated does not interfere with their use for postal purposes. For a further explanation regarding them, see Par. II. 'Telegraph Directory.')

Note.—As a general rule, the last word in the address of every letter, etc., should be the name of the Post Office from which the letter is to be delivered; and the Directory has been prepared with this view, giving in each case the postal address a letter should bear to insure direct transmission to its destination. The name of the County is added in those instances in which it is requisite or desirable that this should form part of the address.

Letters for Scotland, posted in England or Ireland, should have the name of the Country, or the letters 'N.B.,' added to the other part of the address.

The names of the Post Towns and Sub-Post Offices in Scotland (distinguishing Money Order, Savings Bank, and Insurance and Annuity Offices) are inserted in the First Division of the Directory in the order in which they occur in the alphabetical arrangement. In the case of the smaller offices, where Money Order business is not transacted, the name of the nearest Money Order Office is added, for the information of persons who may wish to remit money to the neighbourhood.

For further Postal information, see Appendix at the end of the Directory.

II. THE TELEGRAPH DIRECTORY.

In this the object is to furnish the name of the Postal Telegraph Office nearest to each residence or place, together with the distance therefrom. Where the Post Town and the Telegraph Office are identical, the name is printed in italics; but when this is not the case, the name of the nearest Telegraph Office is given in addition (also in italics), prefixed by the letters T.O. The figures, in each case, denote the distance in miles between the Telegraph Office and the place named; and when a cipher (0) appears, it means that the distance is under one mile.

The names of the Postal Telegraph Offices throughout Scotland at which Telegraph business is conducted by officers of the Post Office—as well as Railway Stations at which Telegrams are collected and delivered by the Railway Companies on behalf of the Postmaster-General—are printed as they occur in the alphabetical arrangement, in ITALIC CAPITALS; and the hours, on week-days and Sundays, when Telegraph business is transacted are in each case appended.

At the Stations where Messages can only be received for transmission, but from which there is no delivery, the circumstance is noted by the words 'Collecting Office only.'

Particulars as to Telegraph Rates and Regulations are annexed.

POST OFFICE TELEGRAPHS.

—o—

THE following are the principal Regulations issued for the information of the Public:—

TARIFF.

The charge for the transmission of messages by telegraph throughout the United Kingdom is one shilling for the first twenty words, and threepence for each additional five words or part of five words. The names and addresses of the sender and receiver are not charged for.

Thus, for a message not exceeding 20 words the charge is 1s.
Over 20 and not exceeding 25	„	„	1s. 3d.
„ 25	„	„ 30	„	„	1s. 6d.
„ 30	„	„ 35	„	„	1s. 9d.; and so on.

Telegrams may be repeated at the request of the sender, if he desire to aopt this extra security against risk of error, by being sent back from the office at which they are received to the office from which they are forwarded. The charge for repetition is one-half the ordinary tariff, fractions of threepence being reckoned as twopence.

The cost of a reply to a telegram may be prepaid, and a form of authority will in that case be delivered to the addressee, who will be at liberty to send his reply from any postal telegraph station at any time within two months after the date of the original message. If the form of authority be not used, application (accompanied by the form) for the return of the money should be made by its holder to the Surveyor-General, General Post Office, Edinburgh. A Reply Form, however, need not necessarily be used for the reply to a message, but may be used for the purpose of prepaying a message containing the same number of words as that named on it.

When the cost of a reply to a telegram has been prepaid, and the number of words in the reply is in excess of the prepayment, the sender of the reply must pay for such excess.

Copies of a telegram directed to more than one firm or person in the same free delivery, will be delivered separately at an additional charge of threepence per copy.

Telegrams may be re-directed from town to town, but an additional charge at the ordinary inland rate is made for each re-transmission. No charge is made for the second service if the re-direction does not involve any use of the wires or tubes. In addition to the amount chargeable on each re-transmitted telegram, a fee of £1, 1s. per annum is charged for the registration of special instructions as to the re-direction of telegrams after office hours. Removals are registered, when this is specially requested, for a period of one month; and no charge is made for the registration.

Telegrams written in plain language in any European tongue are charged for according to the number of words they contain; but all unintelligible words not forming part of any European language are charged for at the rate of five letters to a word.

Telegrams for Places Abroad.—Messages addressed to Foreign Countries or the Colonies are received at all postal telegraph stations. The charges for such messages may be learned on application at any postal telegraph office.

PORTERAGE.

When the terminal telegraph office, i.e. the office situated nearest to the address, is a Head Post Office, the amount paid for the transmission of a message covers the cost of delivery within the town postal delivery of that office. But when it is not a Head Post Office, the message is delivered free within the limit of one mile.

POST OFFICE TELEGRAPHS.

When the addressee resides beyond the prescribed limits, portorage is charged at the rate of 6d. per double mile (that is, a mile out and a mile back) or any part thereof, provided the whole distance to be traversed does not exceed three miles out and three miles back; but the charge is calculated from the boundary of the district within which no portorage is levied. For instance, if the addressee's residence is a mile and a quarter from the terminal telegraph office, and also beyond the free delivery, the charge for portorage would be 6d.; if the distance is above two miles and under three, 1s. When the distance is over three miles, the telegram is delivered by horse express, at the rate of 1s. per milè or part thereof, the charged being reckoned from the office door.

Telegrams for places where portorage on delivery would be incurred, can, however, be delivered free of expense by the first ordinary postal delivery after their arrival at the terminal telegraph office, provided written instructions to this effect are given when the messages are handed in for transmission.

The sum paid by the sender for delivery is always telegraphed to the terminal telegraph office; and should the sender have undercalculated the distance over which the message has to be carried by special foot or mounted messenger, the deficiency is charged on delivery.

In tendering messages for transmission, the senders are expected to state, as accurately as possible, the distance at which the addressees live from the terminal telegraph office, so that the charge for portorage may be ascertained. The Directory has been compiled with a special view to supply this information, although it is not to be considered as an official authority for deciding cases of disputed distance. The distances have in every instance been given, as far as it has been possible to ascertain them, to the nearest quarter of a mile; but as the fractional part of a mile counts as a full mile for portorage purposes, any discrepancy which does not involve the question of a whole additional mile (over the first) does not affect the cost of delivery. For instance, the charge (viz. 6d.) for delivering at a place which is only $1\frac{1}{4}$ mile from a telegraph office, while the entry in the Directory makes it $1\frac{3}{4}$ or 2 miles, will be the same as if the exact distance had been stated.

The Post Office is not liable for losses incurred through the incorrect transmission, delay, or non-delivery of telegrams, but every such case will be carefully investigated on the particulars being communicated to the Surveyor-General at the Metropolitan Office; and it will materially assist the Department in such inquiries if (in instances of incorrect transmission or delay) the applicant will enclose the Received Message form in his letter.

BOYLE'S

PATENT SELF-ACTING AIR-PUMP VENTILATORS

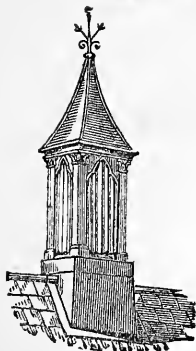

Effectually extract the foul air, have no mechanical motion, are entirely free from down-draught, and can be constructed to harmonise with every style of architecture.

'They are constructed on sound scientific principles, act in strict accordance with the laws of nature, and cannot fail to operate.'—Professor GRANT, LL.D., Glasgow Observatory.

EFFICIENT VENTILATION GUARANTEED.

These Ventilators are pronounced by the most eminent, scientific, and practical men in the kingdom to be the most efficient method of Ventilation yet brought out.

BOYLE'S Complete System of Ventilation gained the 'Burt' Prize of £50 at the Shipwrights' Competitive Exhibition, London, May 1882; and also the Highest Prize (only First Prize given for Roof Ventilators) at the International Exhibition of Medical and Sanitary Appliances, South Kensington, July 16th to August 13th, 1881, and at the Eastbourne Exhibition of Sanitary Appliances (Silver Medal), August 22d to 27th, 1881.

TESTIMONIALS.

DR. B. W. RICHARDSON, F.R.S.—'Since these excellent Ventilators have been introduced we have now got perfect methods of Ventilation.'

From the late SIR GILBERT SCOTT, Architect.—'I have used your Patent Self-Acting Air-Pump Ventilators with complete success. From experience of them in my own house and other buildings—public and private—where they have been applied under my direction, I can confidently and will always have great pleasure in recommending them.'

From ARTHUR GATES, Esq., F.R.I.B.A., Architect to the Crown, etc.—'I have used your Air-Pump Ventilator with satisfactory result. Those fixed under my direction at the Library of the Inner Temple have realized my expectations, and completely fulfil the object which I had in view. I consider this application of them a severe test, and the success which has attended it confirms the statement which you make as to their efficacy.'

From SIR WILLIAM THOMSON, F.R.S., Glasgow University.—'I have seen several different forms of Mr. Boyle's Air-Pump Ventilator in actual operation, and have much pleasure in testifying to their efficiency. They thoroughly realize the favourable anticipations which I formed from experiments on models shown to me by Mr. Boyle. Having one fitted up in my yacht, I find it has caused a very decided improvement in the draught.'

BOYLE'S SYSTEM OF SANITATION.

SOIL PIPES, DRAINS, and SEWERS VENTILATED on the most approved principles by means of BOYLE'S PATENT SELF-ACTING AIR-PUMP VENTILATORS, combined with an Improved Trap and Inlet for fresh air.

SOIL PIPE VENTILATORS, made of Strong Galvanized Iron, and painted with Enamel Paint.

6 inch diameter,	2 inch Pipe,	.	.	£1 0 0
8	"	3	"	1 5 0
10	"	3½ to 4 inch Pipe	.	1 12 6

'I have often made use of the Air-Pump Ventilator, for Soil Pipes, etc., and consider it most admirable. Its action is continuous, and cannot possibly get out of order. It is decidedly the most efficient fixed foul-air withdrawing medium that I ever met with.'—W. EASSIE, Esq., C.E., F.L.S., etc., London, Author of 'Healthy Houses,' etc.

'Boyle's Patent Self-Acting Air-Pump Ventilator, which does not revolve, is the best Soil-Pipe Ventilator that I know of.'—ERNEST TURNER, Esq., F.R.I.B.A., etc.

Estimates given and Designs supplied.

PROSPECTUSES, PRICE LISTS, AND TESTIMONIALS ON APPLICATION.

ROBERT BOYLE & SONS,

Ventilating and Sanitary Engineers,

110 BOTHWELL STREET, GLASGOW, AND 64 HOLBORN VIADUCT, LONDON, E.C.

N.B.—The complete system may be seen in operation and tested at the above Offices.

INSPECTION RESPECTFULLY INVITED.

. CAUTION.—Beware of spurious and worthless imitations of the Air-Pump Ventilator which unprincipled persons are attempting to palm off upon the public, and of Sham Experiments called by them 'Ventilator Tournaments,' the result of which, as published in their advertisements, cannot be proved beyond their own unsupported statements to have any foundation in fact.

THE COUNTY DIRECTORY OF SCOTLAND.

* Indicates Post-Offices at which Money-Order and Savings-Bank business is transacted.

‡ Denotes those which are also Insurance and Annuity Offices.

The Postal Address appears between the Colons, after the name of the Residence or Place. Where the Post-Town and the Telegraph Office are identical, the name is printed in ITALICS; but when not, the nearest Telegraph Office is added (also in Italics), prefixed by the Letters T. O. The Figures, in either case, denote the distance in miles between the Telegraph Office and the place named. When a Ciphher (0) appears, it means that the distance is under one mile.

The names of Postal Telegraph Offices (including Railway Stations where business is transacted on behalf of the Postmaster-General) are printed as they occur in the Alphabetical arrangement, in ITALIC CAPITALS.
